Tax qualified contracts such as IRAs, 401(k)s, etc. are tax deferred regardless of whether or not they are funded with an annuity. If you are considering funding a tax-qualified retirement plan with an annuity, you should know that an annuity does not provide any additional tax-deferred treatment of earnings beyond the tax-qualified plan or program itself. However, annuities do provide other features and benefits such as death benefits and income payment options.

Extended Care Rider: (Not available in all states.) Early withdrawal charges may be waived in the event an Owner receives qualifying extended care. I/we understand that:

- Extended care must begin at least two years after the Contract Date;
- Extended care must be provided in a qualified institution for at least ninety consecutive days; and
- Coverage terminates on the date income payments begin or the date on which the annuity contract terminates.

Waiver of Early Withdrawal Charges: (Not available in all states.) Early withdrawal charges may be waived if:

- A Licensed Health Care Practitioner certifies that the Owner is unable to perform at least 2 of 6 Activities of Daily Living for at least 90 consecutive days; and
- Certification is received at least one year after the Contract Date (coverage terminates on the date income payments begin or the date on which the Contract terminates.)

Federal Tax Penalty: Withdrawals prior to age 59½ are generally subject to a 10% federal income tax penalty.
